RE: ALCOA, Wenatchee Works
EPA Identification No. WAD009270794

Dear Mr. Piecka:

EPA's Superfund program recently reviewed files concerning past waste disposal and potential contamination at the referenced site. During this process, data showing low concentrations of cyanide in ground water at the site were reviewed. Although the concentrations are below the regulatory limits for cyanide in ground water, EPA recommends that workers be notified when they are provided drinking water that contains measurable quantities of cyanide. This will allow the individuals to make personal decisions about whether they want to drink the water.
